

Voyageurs National Park - Minnesota

The Heart of the Continent

Voyageurs National Park lies within the heart of the North American Continent. Here you can see and touch rocks half as old as the world, experience the life of a voyageur, immerse yourself in the sights and sounds of a boreal forest, view the dark skies, or ply the interconnected water routes.

So leave your car behind and set out on the water highways of the North Woods.

Did You Know?

Each year more than 2,500 students visit Voyageurs National Park.
